Lions Receive 47 Acknowledgements From Parcels Sent Overseas To Newmarket Boys

CAPT. J. A. PATTERSON

Acknowledgements of a recent shipment of parcels of cigarettes to Newmarket boys on service outside Canada have been received by the Newmarket Lions club from 47 of the recipients, or more than a third of the number of parcels sent.

Most of those writing sent postal cards but a few sent letters. Lions Secretary T. F. Doyle has the letters and cards at Brunton's store and will be glad to show them to interested relatives and friends.

"The trees have been in leaf for some time and lilacs, daffodils and rhododendrons are in full bloom," writes Sgmn. Sidney Fierheller. "In my opinion, England's best season is spring, but despite all the attractions Canada, winter or summer, remains my first choice. Gifts such as yours from the home town keep our spirits up and remind us once more of the things for which we are fighting."

"I receive the town paper fairly regularly and I'm up in the latest tid bits of sport and town affairs," writes Cpl. H. P. Myers. "According to what I read in the paper the town will possibly be changed quite a bit, but, if I may so write here, I would most certainly love very much to be strolling up that old main drag." The Canadians are anxious to "get going," he also writes.

"The other night I had the luck to see a JU 88 come to earth in flames, brought down by one of the fellows nearby," writes Gnr. J. H. Lister.

"As yet I haven't bumped into any of the Newmarket boys over here, but I get quite a few letters from home and the town paper every week, so I'm far from out of touch," writes Capt. Jack Patterson. "I hope to bump into Gordon Ough or Ivan Atkins the first time I'm on leave. I got some information as to their possible location and hope that I'll be able to contact them. I just missed Jock Choppin twice while he was over here but by now he is probably well back in Canada.

"Our mail has been coming through very well and I doubt if I have lost a single letter so far. We are notified when large amounts of mail are lost at sea and so we can check up on whether we have probably lost any or not.

"We were 22 days on the Atlantic on a little 4,000-ton merchantman and it was a real experience during the January Atlantic storms. I guess if we had any sense we would have worried but we just settled down and enjoyed ourselves. So far it has all been a pleasant adventure but before long I hope that we'll get at this job and get it done.

"It's not so bad for us fellows who have just come over but it must be tough on the fellows who came over in '39, '40, '41, etc."

Secretary T. F. Doyle reported to the Lions club on Tuesday evening that letters of acknowledgement had arrived from the following 46 men. There was one other unsigned acknowledgement. No doubt other acknowledgements will still arrive.

Jack Patterson, W. J. O'Halloran, C. W. Hoover, D. Edwards, J. S. Farley, Aubrey Scythes, D. Carley, H. R. Brown, D. T. Clarkson;

S. M. Fierheller, H. A. Lloyd, E. A. Barber, Gordon Cock, W. Shropshire, H. Haines, W. B. Johnston, Howard Sutton;

School Section Launches Into New Dental Program

Dentist Finds Children's Teeth Above Average

The teeth of the children of school section 7, East Gwillimbury, are "above average" for a school which has not had previous dental attention, Dr. G. A. C. Gunton stated after making an examination at the school on Tuesday morning. Nevertheless, there is much work to be done.

In addition to school experience in King township, Dr. Gunton, together with Dr. E. J. Henderson and Dr. A. W. Boland, made a dental survey at Aurora public school last year.

The East Gwillimbury school section has now arranged to bring several of the children to Dr. Gunton's Newmarket office each Tuesday morning until the work is completed. The arrangement provides for fillings and extractions but not for "restorations," that is, replacement of permanent teeth that need to be removed because of abscesses.

Mrs. W. H. Wilmot is chairman of the S. S. 7 school board.

An illustrated lecture on dental services from the Ontario department of health will be given in Sharon hall on Friday evening, June 4, at 8 o'clock.

School section 7, in conjunction with Sharon Women's Institute child welfare committee, of which Mrs. R. J. Rogers is convener, is arranging this interesting evening for adults and children. There is no admission charge.

Tag Day Raises $229 For Chinese Relief

The tag day, held in Newmarket on Saturday in aid of the Chinese Relief fund, netted the fund $219. A gift of $10 from the Jr. Ladies' Missionary Society of the Congregational-Christian church brought the total to $229. The tag was under the chairmanship of J. B. Bastedo.

ARRIVES OVERSEAS

Lieut.-Col. R. B. Harkness, D.S.O., until recently in command of Newmarket training centre, has arrived in Britain where he will "tour training facilities."

HONOR ROLL WILL REMAIN ON DISPLAY

There are now 518 names on the honor roll, compiled by the Newmarket Lions club, in the municipal office window, states H. E. Gilroy, second vice-president of the club.

This display will remain in the town clerk's office window, Mr. Gilroy said, and be added to as other men and women join the forces. Those enlisting and their relatives and friends are requested to advise Mr. Gilroy of additions that should be made and to check the list for omissions.

Mr. Gilroy would also like to have pictures of all the soldiers whose pictures are not already displayed in the window.

IS UNDER OBSERVATION

Chas. Bovair is under observation in Toronto General hospital.

HE'S OVERSEAS

Cpl. Ernest Tunstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Tunstead, Newmarket, is serving overseas with the Canadian army.

Schools Reopen With More Absent Than When Closed

Mumps And Measles Still Prevail Despite Holiday

When Newmarket public schools reopened on Tuesday, after two weeks holidays because of mumps and measles, there were more absences than when the schools were closed.

There were 98 absent from the Alexander Muir school, 67 from the King George school and ten from the Stuart Scott school, a total of 175, compared with 115 when the schools were closed.

The attendance had not improved appreciably yesterday, but it was expected by Principal H. A. Jackson that another two weeks would see attendance back to normal.

Failure to report many cases of measles and mumps to the M.O.H., Dr. J. H. Wesley, as required by law, made it impossible to know what the attendance would be when school reopened.

Home And School Club Installs New Officers

The annual meeting of the Newmarket Home and School Association was held at the Stuart Scott school on Tuesday evening. The annual reports were read and several interesting reports of the O.E.A. convention and the York County Home and School council were given by delegates.

Mrs. R. E. K. Rourke, accompanied by Mrs. Marjorie Armour, sang two delightful solos. W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for York County, spoke on the need of help on farms and the absolute necessity of allowing the young folk to leave school before the end of the term to join the land army. He also stressed that this must not interfere with the school standing of these young people.

H. A. Jackson, principal of the Newmarket public schools, installed the following officers: honorary president, Mrs. N. L. Mathews; president, Mrs. Harry Bell; 1st vice-president, J. A. Perks; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Gilroy; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Carter; assistant-secretary, Mrs. L. H. Bovair; treasurer, Mrs. M. B. Seldon; pianist, Mrs. Geo. Blackwell.

BATTLES EXHAUST SUPPLY OF PLASMA

(By Mrs. G. E. Case, Newmarket Red Cross)

The utmost importance of the work of the blood donors' clinic is brought home to civilians when it is learned that 75 percent of the available blood plasma was used up after the battle of El Alamein.

That means that the lives of hundreds of soldiers were saved who otherwise would have died. Military scientists realize more and more that more soldiers die from shock than from the wounds themselves and if fresh plasma is supplied at once the results of shock are minimized.

Every healthy citizen must see to it that no life is lost because he has not heeded the call of the Red Cross for blood.

The next opportunity for service will be next Thursday, June 3, at Trinity church. Enroll now at the town clerk's office. Save a life.

Manager Of Mulock Farm, L. D. Prosser Dies

After an illness of two weeks, Leslie Daniel Prosser, Armitage, died at York County hospital in his 71st year. Born in Keswick in December, 1873, Mr. Prosser was the son of the late Lucretia Emes and John Prosser. He married Susie Leith, who predeceased him 25 years ago.

For some years Mr. Prosser lived in Sutton, where he worked for the Imperial Oil Co., later moving to Bowmanville, where he was employed at the Brookdale Nursery and then to Col. W. P. Mulock's farm, Armitage, of which he was manager.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. William Calhoun (Jean), Aurora; two sons, Ernest, Sutton, and Lloyd, Newmarket; four brothers, William, Keswick, Walter, Minnesota, Wilmot, Denver, Colo., and Charles, California; two sisters, Mrs. Robert Graves, Newmarket, and Mrs. George Mitchell (Ida), Detroit.

Rev. Gordon Prosser, Chesley, a nephew, conducted the funeral service at his late residence, Armitage, on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Briar Hill cemetery, Sutton.

The pallbearers were Ernest Sprague, Newmarket, and William Kay, James Sedore, Lawrence Prosser, Lawrence Chapelle and William Osborne, all of Sutton.

Hon. W. P. Mulock, postmaster-general, came from Ottawa to attend the funeral service.

RETURNS HOME

Frank Adams, who some time ago underwent an operation in the Toronto Western hospital, returned home on Friday evening and is improving nicely.

Serious Loss Faces York County Farms, Little Seed Is In

Farmers Get Ready To Put In Substitute Crops As Prospects For Grain Become Bad

Indicative of the seriousness of the seeding situation in York county is the action of the directors of the York County Holstein Association at a special meeting yesterday in cancelling the annual field day scheduled for June 5.

"If June 5 should be picnic weather it would also be seeding weather," was the feeling.

"Wet weather has been general over Ontario, but seeding has been normal in western Canada," W. M. Cockburn, York county agricultural representative, told The Era and Express. "The west has put in an increased acreage of oats, barley and oil-producing crops."

Mr. Cockburn said that seeding done in York county was not over 15 or 20 percent.

"While late sown grain isn't satisfactory, a lot of farmers are planning to sow as late as June 10 or 12," Mr. Cockburn said. "By using early maturing varieties, there will be a 50 percent chance of getting a crop, and farmers will at least have straw.

"Early maturing varieties of hybrid corn for husking were tried out in the Sutton district last year. Even with late planting, corn reached satisfactory maturity for shelling for grain."

More than a month behind in seeding operations already, most farmers are unable to manure the ground for root crops and corn, because of the wet ground, Mr. Cockburn said.

"In York county we are mostly concerned about crops for cattle, hogs and horses," said Mr. Cockburn. "This is a dairy county to a large extent."

Early maturing husking corn might mean a fair crop of substitute grain, Mr. Cockburn said.

While there would be a reduction in vegetable crops, the outlook was not so bad, he thought, as planting could go on for some time.

Farmers in the Islington, Fairbank and Downsview districts at the south end of the county had been fortunate and had completed their seeding, Mr. Cockburn said.

In the Newmarket district farmers are away behind with their seeding. Some are more fortunate than others.

Elmer Starr, Bogarttown, has 12 acres done, with 20 more to do. Some other Whitchurch farmers have likewise been a little more fortunate than in heavier soil districts.

Earle Toole, former warden of the county, has his seeding about half done.

"There are a great many acres in Whitchurch that are not seeded and won't be seeded for some time," Mr. Toole said. "There are many farmers whose seeding is normally finished by now who have little done. Some haven't any done."

Mr. Toole thought that much of this land would have to be sown to early variety oats, and possibly some to barley. "Some land will not be sown unless to buckwheat or some other hay crop, to be cut for green feed," said Mr. Toole.

"Unless there is a miracle the yield of grain cannot be normal," said Mr. Toole. "The entire north end of York county is in the same position."

The first field that Mr. Toole sowed, a week ago Saturday, is now coming through nicely.

There is no seed in at the Andrew Watson farm on Huron St. Neighbors are in the same position.

No seeding has been done at the Walter Proctor farm, Yonge St., or thereabouts. There is one field sown at Mulock's farm, Armitage.

"There is little sown in this section," said Elton Armstrong, Armitage. "I have tried several times unsuccessfully.

"The blossom is on the wild plum now. When it is off, it is too late for seeding, to get a crop. We can put buckwheat or corn or roots in up to June 20.

"A few farmers have four, six or ten acres in. Some haven't any. In my own case, my highest land is seeded down to hay.

"If it dries up, we will get something. The situation will still be serious. It may cut milk and bacon production in two. Oats are hard to buy. You can't use western wheat too heavily, without blending it down with oats and barley."

Prospects are discouraging on the Holland marsh. Some of the growers are trying to plant by hand. Some of the potatoes put in are said to be rotting in the ground.

The Queensville flats, where the crops weren't good last year, are really "up against it" this year.

One northern York county farmer, discouraged about planting 100 bushels of seed potatoes that he had ready, sold them for $500, to be used in the Orillia district.

M.O.H. Receives Note Of Appreciation For Stand

Dr. Wesley's Advocacy Of Public Health Nurse Is Approved

Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., has received the following letter from R. L. Pritchard, secretary-treasurer of the Newmarket public school board:

"We, as a board, would like to have you know of our wholeheartedness in any co-operation which we can give toward creating better health conditions for the public schools of Newmarket.

"Expressing our gratitude for any interest and service you may render toward this and among the children of our town."

Dr. Wesley's article concerned the need for a public health nurse in Newmarket.

NEARLY 1,000 TREES PLANTED BY SOCIETY

(By Rudy Renzius for the Newmarket Horticultural Society)

We are just sending out our annual booklet and prize-list for this year's shows. It is a very attractive little book and should give the members all the information they need for entering flowers, etc., in the different shows.

The book starts with the rules and regulations of the Newmarket Horticultural Society and then lists prizes for the tulip, iris, peony, perennial and summer shows. The juvenile exhibition will be included in the peony show.

The most interesting feature from a civic point of view is the garden competition. It is divided in two classes, new gardens and established gardens. These competitions are open to all members and it is so easy to become a member. Get your membership and be sure to send in an entry blank before June 5, 1943. The last page is devoted to lists of officers, committees and donors of prizes for our shows.

Our civic improvement committee has been busy practically every night, getting approximately one thousand seedling trees planted in the nursery and 150 white ash planted around town (northend, Srigley St. well, nursery, etc.). The committee in charge of planting shrubs around the schoolyards has also been doing great work and in a few years we will all be proud of these improvements.

MORE FIELDS TO CONQUER

There is no reason for those who have put so much work into building Newmarket's A.R.P. organization to feel that it has not been worthwhile. While the war has seemed to move away from us, as the United Nations fronts have advanced, it has really come closer to us. Industrial war production and the armed forces are taking more and more men and women from essential civilian occupations. While we have less expectancy of war from the skies, we feel its pressure more and more on our daily lives.

Real war jobs open up, as a result, for an A.R.P. organization. First, we would say, would be the farm commando job which so needs to be done, to enlist and provide men for emergency work on district farms. Second, we would say, would be to provide help in the important task of salvaging all useful materials, in town and district, than can help war and civilian industry. Here are two civilian war jobs that are feeling the pressure of this year's increased demands on manpower.

UNPLEASANT READING

It is not the sort of book that we would have borrowed from a public library or bought for our own reading. However, other people sometimes choose one's reading with more judgment than one would use oneself. So a friend sent us some time ago "The Seventh Cross," a novel written by Anna Seghers, a German, and translated by James A. Galston. It is a story of pre-war Nazi Germany's concentration camps, and of an attempted escape from the merciless brutality of one of those camps.

It makes us realize that if we are going to blame the entire German nation for this war, and punish all Germans who after this war choose to remain in Germany, we must put the blame away back on generations of Germans, now dead, who failed to develop democratic traditions to withstand the economic strains of the nineteen twenties and thirties, or we must put the blame on the German people who did not prevent the first world war.

Or else, we can read this book, and say to ourselves: "If I had been that man, and some person had asked me to harbor overnight a fugitive from a Nazi internment camp, I would not have hesitated. I would not have been concerned about the possibility of the fugitive or the man who asked me to lend a hand or someone else in the chain being caught and beaten and mutilated until he disclosed my name. I would not have been concerned about being spied on by a neighbor. I would not have worried about the consequences to myself, my family, my relatives."

Readers of this book cannot think other than that a great portion of the German people have been from the beginning victims, not supporters, of the Nazi regime. They have had no choice but to observe the forms of loyalty to the Nazi regime. "Heil Hitler!" They have been fighting Nazism longer than we have been, and it has required more courage than this war has required of most of us. Many of them have gone to concentration camps, to be starved, tortured and beaten to death.

Many brave anti-Nazis remain. Some of them may even have had to bear arms against us or against our allies. And then there are their children and young people, those to whom parents did not dare to tell their own opinions of Nazism. Those young people have never had a chance to read history and form their own opinions. They haven't had a chance to build their own Christian philosophies.

Do those people—and they are those who will bear economic burdens laid upon Germany—deserve punishment? Or do they need help? Should we again condemn Germany to economic stress and starvation? Impossible reparations burdens? Should we bring about again the conditions that gave rise to a Hitler?

It would be easier for us of the United Nations if we could avoid books like "The Seventh Cross," if we could, like the Nazis, fill our newspapers with half-truths and shut our minds and hearts to the other fellow's story.

PUBLIC SIGHS WITH RELIEF

The public will be relieved by Mr. Nixon's announcement that Mr. Conant's salary as premier was paid to the end of May. There was therefore no need, said Mr. Nixon, to hurry about rushing through Mr. Conant's new appointment as master-in-chambers at Osgoode hall. Mr. Nixon didn't mention whether his own salary as premier began immediately or on June 1. Let us resolve the doubt in favor of Mr. Nixon and try to maintain public regard for the public spirit of public men.

THE TOWN'S CHILDREN

Progress comes at night. When things are darkest, when war or depression has put pressure on us, our ideas change, and we become reconconciled to new ways of doing things. It is a matter for pride that three of our northern York county municipalities are pioneering in the provision of free dental services in the schools.

Georgina township led the way. The dentist, we heard, did not mind giving his services more cheaply than he would give them to individuals. He found that dentistry in the schools made parents conscious of their need for dental care. He lost nothing and he did a great deal of good work that he hadn't an opportunity to do before.

Now North Gwillimbury and at least one school section in East Gwillimbury are following Georgina.

Perhaps Newmarket town council would consider a simliar plan for Newmarket children. There is one way in which we can improve the health of our children.

Or perhaps our council would consider, as a start, a school clinic, say in June, to give every child a free dental, ear, eye, nose and throat, and complete physical examination. Write the results down on a chart and give the information to the parents to take whatever action they wish to remedy defects.

This is a time when most parents could help their own children if they realized just what their children needed, but so many of us don't bother to find out what defects our children have.

Children belong to the community. The parents are merely trustees for the community. What parents aren't doing, or can't do, for those children, a wise community will do itself.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

NO SUGAR-COATING PLEASE

(Amherstburg Echo)

Now that Mrs. Housewife has come down to earth after having been blown sky-high by the announcement regarding ten pounds of sugar for canning needs for the summer of 1943—which put many good-natured housewives in a belligerent mood—we are better able to philosophize regarding this startling news.

Let's look in retrospect on our thoughtlessness. How many householders last summer, when we were on the honor system with regard to sugar for canning, kept in mind, when they nonchalantly asked for ten pounds here and ten pounds there, that Canada imports most of her sugar, only a very small percentage consumed is manufactured in Canada; that the men in the services need vast quantities or that much was being used in the contents of overseas parcels?

We know that many will say, "I thought of that and never once asked for more than I required." We grant that there were many, many exceptions but still there were thousands who forgot and really got more sugar than necessary for their canning needs. As a consequence every Mrs. Housewife is having to suffer because some overstepped last year.

Now let's look at that august body—the wartime prices and trade board—which didn't use psychology in dealing with this sugar situation. Why did they allow such a seething situation to arise? In our estimation it would have been better to have announced right after the new ration books came out that Mrs. Housewife would have very little sugar for canning purposes this year and then set the amount, rather than have the busy little woman count her cans, figure what she used last year, and because the advertisements said "Can more in 1943," add a few jars to this and that and eventually send her requirements to secretary of local ration board. In her excitement and anxiety (not wanting to be unpatriotic by asking for too much) she forgot to put in the serial numbers on household cards so she got the cards back, fixed them up and returned them, all these steps making this a major operation. Mrs. Housewife thought that she was doing the right thing—and she was—but how nonplussed she was when the official announcement came through the past week.

Surely the W.P.T.B. knew how much sugar there was in Canada early in April and with a little tact could have prevented what might be termed an unpleasant incident.

Canadian housewives can take it straight from the shoulder and don't need to be kidded along. If you say ten pounds per person, alright, ten pounds it is. Mrs. Housewife will adjust her plans for canning to suit but we still say not only Mrs. Housewife but the secretaries of the local ration boards had a great deal of needless work and worry.

EXPERIENCE

(Orillia Packet and Times)

The attacks on the business executives who are heading the administration of Canada's war effort are a little hard to understand. Apparently the argument is that the task should have been given to men without business experience. Just why it should be thought they would make a better job of it is not easy to imagine. Herein lies the weakness of the C.C.F. leadership. Largely composed of school teachers and clergymen, faced with such tasks as have confronted Donald Gordon in the wartime prices and trade board, they would be as helpless as school children. Placed in political power the result could scarcely be otherwise than chaos—unless they let the senior civil service keep them on the straight path. It is no more sensible to expect men to be efficient executives or administrators without training and proved ability than it would be to pitchfork men without scholastic qualifications and actual teaching experience into posts as headmasters.

EARLIDS

(Fort Erie Times-Review)

Today, it is next to impossible to keep one's ears inviolate. In almost every restaurant or other place open to the public for eating or relaxation, a blaring radio, or even more blaring juke box holds forth, rending the air with incomprehensible swing.

Sometimes we think nature was remiss in equipping only the eyes with lids. Imagine what a godsend earlids would be!

Of People And Things

A MEDLEY

By Isabel Inglis Colville

I remember when medleys were a very popular form of music.

They might be either vocal or instrumental—the end of one song or instrumental selection fitting by modulation into the one following.

The result was not always beautiful; sometimes it was amusing, sometimes rather commonplace, but, for a time, the medley flourished.

What is going through my head at the present time rather resembles that form of composition, for I think the spring, if we can call this spring, has disturbing effects on our intellects and they simply fly—if intellects can fly—from one thing to another, it may seem rather aimlessly, but when we think of these things as a whole, we find they are all strung on spring's rosary, like beads in a chain.

Washing woodwork and windows and curtains, doesn't seem much like poetry, but when the windows shine and the fresh, sweet-smelling curtains are hung up, when pictures twinkle and sparkle at you, you feel as if you had MADE a poem at home, even if you couldn't WRITE one.

Then every morning, there's a tour of inspection—your flower borders and beds, your rock garden and wild flower garden—these must be inspected as they stand on parade, fresh and sparkling from their dew bath, sending forth their incense in the pure morning air.

Perhaps a perennial over which you've watched and which for some years has stubbornly refused to bloom, suddenly sends forth a blossom—there is a thrill in this, that every flower lover knows.

A Persian lilac, which I've cherished for ten or more years, like the fig tree of Biblical fame, "there was no fruit thereon."

This year, I went out one morning with no great expectations, but, of course, I looked at it. Then—what to my wandering eyes should appear—why, tiny amethyst hyacinth-like clusters of buds. This was consolation for all the hundreds of mornings I had looked with a little fluttering hope in my heart, only to have it dashed when I saw no sign of blossoms.

Flowers are not the only things that give you surprises. The other day we were sitting at dinner, when I laid down my fork and rubbed my eyes.

"Have you got something in your eye?" asked friend husband.

"Either that or hallucinations," I told him. "You look too anyway."

"At what?" he wanted to know, as he looked at the ceiling, 'round the room and at Timmy, lying by the fire, who seemed to take his interest as a personal insult, for he growled, turned 'round three times, then lay down and immediately went to sleep, as only cats can.

"Look under the tree," said I.

"Oh — !" said the man of the house. "Yes, and ah!" said I, for now I knew he was real—I mean the little gentleman in orange and black, who was peacefully feeding with chippies and song sparrows and woodpeckers.

"Yes, but look on the fence," said my better half, and there was a pair of red-headed woodpeckers, evidently enacting the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet.

Romeo was declaring his love and Juliet was decidedly coquettish, but in time he must have induced her to brave the wrath of her parents and fly with him to pastures new.

Every day we see little love scenes and quarrels, dramas and tragedies, and from morning to night hear choruses of bird song, that make even these gloomy days a joy.

It's a spring medley, and lovely as only spring can make it.

A WISE CRACK

Foreman: "You're too slack about your work. If you want to stay on here, I warn you, you'll have to bear down."

Workman: "Say, what do you think I am—a duck?"

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era and Express:

Your editorial headed "Who will pay?" was both thought provoking and interesting.

Does it not get back to the fact the people are letting government slip out of their hands?

Slowly we see the powers of our municipalities being taken into the hands of our provincial government. Huge sums of money are spent where the people have no real control. Government budgets are so large that a very small percentage of the people understand them. Governments of late years have been run by an individual or a cabinet where the average member of parliament has no say nor is he consulted about the administration of affairs.

In the last ten years we have seen, in the province of Ontario, the budget grow from 55 to 130 millions of dollars. This with only a small increase in population, and with very little of this money being spent for war purposes. The sums of money are so staggering they are beyond the imagination.

Duplication of administration and the unwise spending of money have crept in, to make for enormous increases in overhead. The rank and file of the people, having no real control, have lost interest in the administration of their governments. They have lost the conscientiousness that money supplied by government must eventually be repaid by them.

If plans for social and health improvement along the lines of the Beveridge and Marsh reports are to be carried out, large amounts of money would have to be provided by our governments. Somehow much of this must be saved from the cost of government.

Is not the answer to this the placing of much of the spending and administration of the people's money back into the control of the rank and file of the people? Where better could this control be had than in the municipalities and county councils?

To do this, however, our municipalities must be prepared to accept their responsibilities and not take the attitude "Let the government do it." Perhaps there might be some small increase in real estate taxation but in the main money would be raised in taxation by government from the normal channels. With the administration by the municipalities and county councils large savings in administrative overhead should be made.

There is an old saying "Low taxation means a contented people." Many of the great revolutions of history have been caused by high taxation, where the powers of taxation had got out of the hands of the people.

One of the concepts of the future is that there shall be no want, and that there shall be care and medication for those who are sick and for preventive purposes. Who knows the necessities of our people better than the mayors, reeves and councillors of our municipalities?

What finer and more economical government can you get than that which comes from municipal governments and county councils? The backbone of these are the citizens who unselfishly give their time and energies, as a matter of public service, for little or no remuneration.

Where the people are able to have the intimate knowledge of the workings of government and its administration, they will interest themselves to see it is fairly, economically and properly carried out.

Yours truly,
J. D. Sibbald

NEWMARKET AIRMAN WRITES FROM TUNISIA

"I received the cigarettes that you sent to me and I would like to express my thanks to you," Sto. W. B. Johnston says in a card to the Newmarket Veterans Soldiers' Comforts Fund. "It is hard to really tell you how much I appreciate what this organization is doing for the boys in all of the services but I'm sure that they all feel the way that I do. It wasn't so long ago when I had the pleasure of being home on leave, and as all leaves are usually spent visiting and travelling I had a good time and am looking forward to the next one. I was supposed to call around and see Mr. McIntosh but was unable to, as I was very busy making arrangements to get married, which takes quite a lot of time.

"Again I want to take this opportunity to thank you all for sending the smokes to me, which I am enjoying this minute."

"Thanks a million for the gift parcel of cigarettes which I received yesterday," LAC Wm. Dougan writes in an airgraph letter, dated April 23, to the Veterans. "Your pals are sure looking after the boys from home first-class.

"We are up in Tunisia and the weather is very warm. We have lots of green grass up here instead of sand like we had when we were in Egypt.

"How are all the Veterans getting along? I want to thank you one and all again for remembering me and to you all I say 'Thumbs Up' and it will soon be over.

"We haven't much time to write, so I will say so long and take care of yourself."

A card of appreciation was received from Spr. A. Thompson.

SCARE-CROWS

By GOLDEN GLOW

This is the time of year we see fearful and wonderful creations in folks' gardens to scare away the birds that think they have a perfect right to dig at the freshly planted seeds. I saw one the other day that crowned them all and it was so ingenious that I can't help commenting on it.

It surely proves that the one who contrived it used his brain and wits, as you will readily admit. It was made over a dress-form like folks used to use to model their dresses, and it was all togged up like a person. You may well imagine it created lots of fun!

The old joke about the birds building nests in the scarecrows' pockets won't fit in this case for Mr. Scarecrow isn't "Mister" at all, but a beautiful lady—and ladies do not have pockets!

I wonder who invented the first scarecrow, for it seems to have been known to the ancients—and the more fantastic it was the better it seemed to work! Stories have even been written about scarecrows — maybe Sherlock Holmes wrote one, I can't say! However, every youngster has had a lot of fun making them—scarecrows in the spring and summer, snowmen in the winter, with two chunks of coal for eyes and their dad's hat for his head.

I recall a neighbor's method of scaring the birds from her cherry tree—she had a long cord attached to a rope of bells and jingly things tied to the tree and every so often she went into her pantry and pulled the rope five or six times and such a clashing and jingling she made. You'd see the birds fly in clouds out of the tree, but no doubt they got more than their share before she was up in the morning!

I saw a real scarecrow—no doubt the "original"—in a friend's garden some years ago. She had quite a number of little chickens and the crows would not leave them alone, but kept swooping down and carrying them off. So her brother shot one of the black robbers and they suspended it by one leg over the chicken coop, and I assure you, it worked!

WEST YORK DEANERY MEETS AT ST. PAUL'S

The Parochial Guild of St. Paul's Anglican church held its final meeting for the season last Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Miss Velma Thompson. They will meet again in September.

St. Paul's W.A. will hold their monthly meeting next Thursday, June 3, instead of June 10, to make final preparations for the deanery convention.

Will Your Laying House be Working Full Blast for Victory in 1944?

ORDINARILY, people are doubtful about starting summer-hatched chicks in any considerable number . . . any more than just a few for a "backyard flock." But this year the situation is out of the ordinary. Strong home and overseas demand is sustaining the egg market. Strong demand for meat is taking a lot of heavy-breed hens out of a lot of laying houses. There's a real prospect of a serious shortage of eggs and poultry meat.

So, aside from the patriotic angle altogether (though this is certainly a big factor in itself), it looks as if it might be good business, this year, to start a summer brood of chicks—not "going off the deep end," but making sure you have enough good pullets coming along to fill your laying house after summer losses and fall culling have taken out a percentage of your earlier birds.

Of course, when you're raising summer-hatched chicks, it's more important than ever to brood and feed them right, and to get the kind that start fast, grow fast, develop fully fast, and lay early. The Bray organization has put a great deal of time and thought into producing chicks with that "growability" bred right into them. It will pay you to keep that fact in mind, and make it a point to order BRAY chicks.

If you do decide to raise some summer chicks, please order them well in advance, so we'll know what breeding flocks to leave set up after the regular chick season is over.

MR. JACKSON GIVES HIS SWITCHBOARD OPERATOR A HEADACHE...

...and besides HE'S HOLDING UP THE WAR

When will he get off that line! It's easy to see he's forgotten how precious time has become, and how seriously telephone facilities are strained.

The days of casual telephoning are definitely over; there is urgent war work to be done.

You can help hurry it along by using the telephone judiciously. Before you lift the receiver, ask yourself: "Do I really need to make this call?" And when you do, please be brief.

WARTIME TELEPHONE TACTICS FOR YOUR OFFICE

Help your switchboard operator to handle calls promptly by getting your own numbers rather than asking her to do it for you.

Avoid asking the switchboard operator to look up telephone numbers—keep a list of frequently-called numbers handy at your desk.

It may be practicable to accept calls direct from your switchboard rather than route them through your secretary.

When you place a Long Distance call, stay near your telephone, ready to talk as soon as your call is completed.

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM

Borrowing for War Farming

Farmers all over Canada—grain growers, stock raisers, dairymen, fruit growers, vegetable gardeners, poultrymen—all kinds of farmers—are forcing production, fighting hard early and late to supply the enormous quantities of products demanded in the greatest of all wars.

In this "survival war" food plays a tremendous part, and the farmer is the dependable supplier, to whom armed forces and civilians alike must look. The extra demands on farm production mean extra financing. The Bank of Montreal, ready always to co-operate with agriculture, is making special efforts at this time to help the farmer produce food for Canada and the United Nations.

If you need to borrow, see our nearest branch manager, who will understand your problems.

Seven and Eight Right Were Good Enough To Win Theatre Passes In Last Week's Tough Contest

Only 11 contestants sent in answers to last week's difficult contest, but the puzzle editor fooled all of them. There were no correct sets of answers sent in, but four of the contestants were able to get all but two right. Several others had only three errors and from these the other winner was drawn by Mrs. John Campbell at Frank Bowser's grocery store.

The winners are: Mrs. Joe Peat, 57 Eagle St., Newmarket, Mrs. Dorothy McCarnan, Newmarket, Francis Elphinstone, 7 D'Arcy St., Newmarket, Mrs. W. H. Elines, 55 Niagara St., Newmarket (each with eight right), and Mrs. W. Brice, 83 Andrew St., Newmarket, (with seven right).

These winners have their choice of the program at the Strand theatre for Tuesday, June 1, when the historic rout of Rommel's Africa Corps by the British 8th army will be seen in "Desert Victory," and Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Priscilla Lane, Dick Powell and Rosemary Lane will be seen in "Varsity Show," or for Thursday, June 3, when Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone and Ann Rutherford star in "Andy Hardy's Double Life," and the Dead End Kids and Little Tough Guys star in "Keep 'Em Slugging." The passes may be picked up any evening at the Strand theatre.

The correct answers were: motor (T-room unscrambled — this one fooled everyone), leather, water, driver, payment, lumber, opposite (which only one contestant was able to figure out), heated, racquet and steel.

THIS WEEK'S CONTEST

Five double passes will again be given to the winners of this week's contest. They will have their choice of the program at the Strand theatre on Tuesday, June 8, when Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred MacMurray, Dorothy Lamour, Alan Ladd and Rochester star in the musical comedy, "Star Spangled Rhythm," and William Gargan and Margaret Lindsay star in "No Place For A Lady," or for Thursday, June 10, when Deanna Durbin and Barry Fitzgerald star in "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday" and William Tracy and Joe Sawyer star in "Fall In."

The contest is open only to those who have not won before this year. Answers must reach The Era and Express office by 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday.

The ten classified words have been scrambled this week and all the vowels are missing. Here they are: NDCDV, TYRVC, LCPB, SMRKM, RSPSP, TNSM, GLNSL, NLNG, BKHCWT, WRHSK.

IN MEMORIAM

Hadden—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Wm. Hadden, who passed away May 29, 1938.

In heaven there was a vacant seat,
An empty crown was there,
The angel's eyes were turned to earth
In search of one the crown to wear.
They fell on one, too good for earth,
On one we loved so dear,
And took her to his heavenly home

Sadly missed by husband and daughters, Mabel and Della.

Hadden—In loving remembrance of my dear daughter, Laura Maretta Hadden, who was called to her eternal home May 29, 1933.

In a graveyard sweetly sleeping
where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one I love so dearly in her cold and silent grave,
She shall never be forgotten, never shall her memory fade.
Fondest thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where Maretta was laid.

Ever remembered by Mother.

Hadden—In loving memory of my sister, Mrs. Wm. Hadden, who passed away May 29, 1938.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear sister,
It is sweet to breathe thy name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

Lovingly remembered by sister, Gertie, and family.

Nelson—In loving memory of my dear mother, Maria Lillian Nelson, who passed away May 29, 1942.

Dear mother, sleep thy last sleep
Free from all care and sorrow.
Rest where none weep
Till the eternal morrow.

Ever remembered by Gertrude.

Nelson—In loving memory of my dear mother, Marie Lillian Nelson, who passed away May 29, 1942.

God knew that she was suffering.
That the hills were hard to climb,
So He closed her weary eyelids,
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Some time, some day, we know not when,
We will meet our loved one there.

Lovingly remembered by Fern and Cecil Mortson.

Prosser—In loving memory of our dear mother, Joanna Prosser, who passed away June 1, 1940.

Gone, dear mother, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed—
How sweet the memory still—
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by Earl, Ariel, Muriel, Betty, Gladys and Mildred.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

The Bible declares that during the ministry of Christ, the message he delivered from God to his kinsmen, the Jews, was a call to repentance from every evil work, the assertion of his divine sonship and Jewish kingship, and the proclamation of the glad tiding that God would restore their kingdom through Him at the end of the Gentile times, and accomplish all things written in the Prophets. Mark. 1: 15; Matt. 4:17; John 10: 36; Luke. 24: 44; Matt. 5: 17; Luke. 24: 21.

Looks Back To 80 Years Of Loyalty To Lodges, Country

Major W. H. Taylor celebrated his 80th birthday quietly at his home on Monday. One of Aurora's best known native sons, he is active and in full possession of all his faculties. Major Taylor underwent a serious operation last summer but this year is as good as ever, and in a few weeks time expects to start his annual assessment for the town of Aurora, a task he has already done for 15 years. In fact he has done 16 assessments, as in one year with a change of assessment time he did the job twice.

Mr. Taylor possibly holds more records for years of service than any man in York county. For instance, for 57 years he has been a member of the Orange order, 56 as a member of United Empire lodge, Aurora. For 38 consecutive years he has been secretary of the county Orange lodge and for over 30 years a Grand Lodge officer. Since the age of eight he has missed only three 12th of July parades.

It is just 43 years ago that he was master of Rising Sun Masonic lodge, Aurora. For 31 years he has been clerk of the 6th division court, and has known almost 100 county judges in that time.

He is the oldest living member of Trinity Anglican church and was christened, confirmed, and married in the church. He has been warden and is a synod delegate still.

For 47 years Mr. Taylor was a member of the 12th York Rangers, enlisting as a private and retiring as major. Mr. Taylor was born in the same house in which he now resides and from that dwelling have gone warriors to four wars, William Taylor to the Fenian Raids, Major Taylor to the North-West Rebellion, Fred Taylor to the last war, and Robert Hodgkinson to the present conflict.

Mr. Taylor takes pride in the fact that he has one son, three grandsons and two sons-in-law on active service now.

Lieut. Fred Taylor serves again as adjutant with the R.C.E., L.-Cpl. Raymond Taylor is overseas with the R.C.A.M.C. and Sgt. Harold Taylor is overseas with the R.C.A.F. The third grandson on service, P.O. Murray Lindsay, is with the R.C.A.F. Pacific command. Pte. Robert Hodgkinson is overseas while another son-in-law, Harold Bridgeman, is with the R.C.A.F. in Nova Scotia.

PROMINENT AURORA BUSINESS MAN DIES

A partner in the firm of Williamson Brothers, coal and wood merchants, Aurora, Charles H. Williamson, died yesterday at his home, in his 64th year.

Mr. Williamson was a frequent exhibitor of heavy team-horses at shows and fall fairs,

Born in Whitchurch township, he engaged in farming before moving to Aurora. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and the United church.

Surviving besides his widow, Helen Young Williamson, are four brothers, Frank of Ravenshoe, Arthur of Roblin, Man., Daniel, partner in the firm of Williamson Brothers, and Edward of Newmarket, and two sisters, Mrs. George Bell of Toronto and Mrs. Arthur Atkinson of Aurora.

A service will be held at his residence in Aurora on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be in Aurora cemetery.

Mood Of English Is Drawn In Sea Drama

The mood and manners of English people in their everyday lives are caught with accuracy and with no suspicion of caricature or exaggeration in Noel Coward's moving story of an English destroyer, "In Which We Serve," the new United Artists release, which came to the screen of the Royal theatre, Aurora, on Monday and remains until Saturday.

The distinction between the smoother, and perhaps more superficial, behavior of the upper-class officers and their wives, and the less-mannered talk and actions of the ordinary seamen is brought out clearly, but without distortion.

Captain Kinross—Noel Coward—and his family, with all their English restraint, are not puppets. They are human beings, whose love runs from child to parent and from husband to wife, and whose lives are touched by the war in which Kinross' ship, the H.M.S. Torrin, makes its gallant fight.

The combination of dignified forbearance and humanness is particularly striking in Alix Kinross, upon whose vital love for her husband, the Torrin and its mission in the war cast their weighty shadow. Her movements and her thoughts seem ever clouded with the sadness of the one thing that prevents their family life from flowing in a smooth, uninterrupted current—her husband's ship. And yet her heart is moved with pride for it—and with respectful admiration.

Chief Petty Officer Walter Hardy and his wife are drawn with a little more lightness—as if the very pattern of their lives makes for less formality—and yet you feel in each a definite realization of the gravity of England's destiny and their own, and a profound loyalty. There is a pleasant humor and heartiness in them, as there is in Ordinary Seaman Shorty Blake, whose devotion to his pretty wife, Freda, is beautiful and moving.

There are homey little touches in the everyday existence of all the characters which strike one as bits of reality transplanted from life—bits of reality all recognize immediately as emotionally valid, and intensely human.

The responsibility rests with the Collis Leather Co., but the town will co-operate in any way it can, to remedy the sewage disposal situation, was the finding of the sanitation committee of the Aurora town council at a meeting yesterday.

Even Oil Controller Will Be Different After War

Flt.-Lieut. J. D. Parks told a true story, involving an Aurora flier and an Aurora automobile, from the pulpit and microphone of Carlton St. United church, Toronto, two weeks ago.

Basing his sermon on 34,000 miles of travel as an R.C.A.F. padre in Canada and overseas, Flt.-Lieut. Parks told of the comradeship among fliers and prophesied that people would be "different" after this war.

Illustrating his point, he told how a day or two before he had been picked up in Toronto by a flier who had attended High Park United church when he himself was the minister of that church.

"Norm, where did you get a car?" he asked the flier, and the flier told him that he was on leave from overseas and that he happened to meet Squadron-Leader Lloyd Chadburn, Aurora, as the latter was returning to service after leave in Canada. Squadron-Leader Chadburn told him that he might as well have the use of his car. The car was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen, Aurora.

So "Norm" got the car and when he returned it, (but Flt.-Lieut. Parks didn't know or tell this part of the story), when his leave was over, it was re-finished, dents taken out of the fenders, and the gasoline tank was full. More than that, the oil controller co-operated with the grateful flier and sent Mr. Allen by mail a new gasoline ration book for the car.

Flt.-Lieut. Parks spoke in Aurora two months ago.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Newmarket camp started the soccer season off in better style than did the softballers, and with the same trio of sportsmen, Messrs. George, Kerr and Bowman, in charge. In their first start they defeated John Inglis commercial 1-0, Pete Kerr, dynamic forward, getting the lone counter in the first half. Of course, the Inglis boys are not by any means the strongest opposition in the group, but it is a nice feeling to get off on the right foot. Kerr is a former member of the All-Scots team, as is John Morrison on the half line.

Gordon Froom, former T.T.C. player, is in goal and in the opener stopped many hard drives from the anxious war workers. Fred. Bishop, another member of the team, is a former clubmate of Froom. Alex. Vass of Adys A.C., Cummings, former star of Raven Hill Rovers (Old Country), Evered, Toronto senior B. O'Hara of Hamilton Borough school, Miller of Fairbank United, Gordon Riddell of East End, Eustace of Toronto, and Bill Ashby, who has played quite a few games at Camp Borden, are the main players, with plenty of good replacements on hand, ready for action.

Capt. Tom George, the sports officer, was himself a well-known Toronto senior player a few years back. Pleasing to the executive is the way the good old English, or perhaps we should say Old Country, game is catching on both as a pastime and sports spectacle with the boys at No. 23. Overseas, soccer is, of course, one of the big sports but like lacrosse those in charge of the game have allowed soccer to die in Canada but for a few attempts among the younger lads in the big cities.

Time was when every small town and small country corners boasted a soccer team. It is not so long ago since Green River, near Markham, boasted one of the best teams in Ontario.

Maple and King City were other centres which really produced the goods. Claremont and Emery were also right up at the top. Picnics, country fairs, garden parties and regular league matches were a great gathering spot for the lads and their friends. Such fellows as Wilbur Cousins, of Maple, Vic Orr and others were as fine players as you can see today in the best Canadian soccer circles.

Aurora high school was another hotbed of soccer activity and for over a decade went through secondary school competition in North York without a single defeat. Newmarket and Richmond Hill also produced some mighty fine teams. In fact, during our own school days we lived to see the day when Aurora could barely hold its own against both schools. Markham and Barrie were sometimes included in the schedule but mostly it was a bitter three-cornered rivalry.

Aurora sent some great players to the University of Toronto, who, until the competition was dropped due to lack of crowd appeal, ruled the intercollegiate roost pretty well every year. There were Capt. Norman Johnson, Dr. Fred. ("Curly") Underhill, the late Dr. Gene Underhill, Ev. and Dr. Harold Learoyd, Norman Campbell, Dr. Herb. Spaulding among others. At one time no less than five former Aurora high players formed the nucleus of a conquering blue and white eleven which toured the States. Four captains of the Varsity team came from the ranks of those named above.

Eric White, one of the best of the Richmond Hill school players, was not of the same vintage as the others and was later to star as a senior player with Fergus and Guelph in western Ontario. Last district league among the towns was one composed of Aurora, Connaught, Willowdale, Emery and Vellore. Newmarket a few years earlier had a team in the same group. Perhaps if the Camp team can attract enough civilian following in Newmarket there may again be a revival of the game. Aurora, Markham, Bradford, Stouffville, Agincourt and Claremont are schools still carrying on the game, to a limited extent.

Cottie Tribble, well-known Barrie baseballer, who played on Newmarket camp's first hardball team when he was an instructor at No. 23, is now a private on active service with the 1st battalion, Queen's Yorks, at Niagara. He will be a valuable addition to the sports set-up of the active county unit.

Jimmy Cummings, former captain of Aurora junior hockeyists, just finishes one sport when he starts another. Last fall it was senior rugby, then senior commercial hockey, and now senior defence softball with DeHavillands. Jimmy is parked in centre field.

Charlie Smith for the fourth year in a row rode an entry in the 84th running of the King's Plate. "C. W." still rates among the top riders but this year finished out of the money, as Gray Syngo, a rank outsider, ran in the can. Last year he rode the winner and the year previous he was in second place. For Pat Remillard, who has been a top jockey for years, it was a new experience to ride home a winner of the guineas. Our choice, Tulachmore, finished third to Paolita and we were in good company in missing the boat. At that the weather and track conditions had a lot to do with the downfall of the favorites, not that we are trying to alibi. Those juicy odds of 40 to one, however, speak for themselves.

Charlie Hemstead, who has his horses and racing quarters near Markham, was the lucky winner. It was his first win in Canada's leading racing feature. A few years ago Mr. Hemstead generously supported Markham juniors when they wore his black and gold racing colors and were known as the Aces.

Coulson Malloy, in his day a star basketball, track and soccer player at Aurora high school, is handing out the ceegars these days in honor of baby Eileen Ann Malloy, recently arrived. "Cole" is a nephew of Reeve Charlie Malloy of Aurora.

Mount Albert will be the scene of another gala sports day and carnival on June 5 and we have no hesitation in recommending the event to you as a real attraction. The folks up at the Mount for years past have been furnishing a real attraction at two bits per head and we don't know of bigger value. As usual a softball tournament will be one of the big features but just where the teams will come from we can't say, as, truth to tell, they're scarcer than molars in a hen-pen.

Providing scheduled games don't interfere, Clair Exelby and his softballers from Newmarket Camp will be present. Last year the Redmen were strong favorites to win out, but "Joint" McComb and his "Zephyr" team from Toronto won out. Pringle, who pitched them to victory that day, is now tossing them over for Ordnance corps at Camp Borden.

The R.C.O.C. boys are out in front in the north zone softball at Borden just now, and in the same group with the entry handled by yours truly. We lost an extra inning game by one run last week to Saskatchewan Horse, but it is a long season and our boys will do better, we hope, we hope.

Harold Mountain, former deputy-reeve of North York, and former headman of North York A.C. in hockey, who co-operated in providing waivers for players living near Toronto needed by Aurora juniors in their trek to a junior C title, is secretary and chief rooter for the Massey-Harris soccer team which is grouped with Newmarket Camp this season.

Doug. Hope, who guarded the nets for Middlebrook's Aces in the Aurora town league and played softball for the Pine Orchard softballers in the defunct Lake Simcoe softball circuit, reported for active service with the army last week. Hope was a fairly capable performer at both games, if not in the spectacular class. He is the fourth member of the Aces to go on active service since the hockey season in the town league opened. A pretty fair sort of record.

No cricket will be played by students at St. Andrew's College for the first time in the history of the school. Most of the boys are leaving the school early this year, for service, war or farm work. In addition, there is little equipment available and travelling is difficult. The other prep. schools who play cricket are carrying on with a curtailed season.

Harry Lumley, who guarded the twine cage for Barrie juniors last winter and then reported to Detroit Red Wings for an end of season trial, is said to be headed for Galt to play goal for the newly-formed junior A team of that city. If Johnny Mowers should go on active service before next season, Lumley may get his big chance. At this stage, however, we would think pro hockey was getting more improbable as the days go by. Nearly 20 of the N.H.L. players are wearing service colors now only a few weeks after the season is over.

Bob Davidson of the Leafs, like Syl Apps, takes reserve army training with the Toronto Scottish regiment and a few weeks ago joined his old line-mate in the sergeants' mess of the reserve unit with a well deserved promotion.

Lacrosse is being played as a six-man game in the Quebec senior series, the rover position being abandoned, and we see no reason why, with players scarce, the same idea should not be adopted for all series in Ontario. It is an attempt to streamline an already speedy sport and should succeed. Time was when hockey, played on the same-sized cushion, was a seven-man affair, and he would be a bold man who would contend the change to the present hockey set-up has not speeded up the winter sport. The same can be done in lacrosse and it will benefit small centres where playing material, even one good player, is scarce.

Lions club nominations at Newmarket look like a roster of one-time athletic greats and entrepreneurs with such well known figures as Freddy Thompson former hockeyist and hardballer, Herman Gilroy, who for years was a big shot in Aurora hockey affairs, Frank Courtney, executive figure with the Redmen softballers and hockeyists and Aurora Blue Ribbons, and Councillor Frank Bowser, former hockey executive, among those nominated for office. To be quite frank, we do not know just what the Lions club has done for sport in Newmarket. We don't recall much activity as a body but we know as individuals the members have done a great deal.

At Barrie the Lions club has promoted juvenile and junior C hockey, in Brantford junior A hockey and baseball, in Oakville all minor sports. In some centres they have been the means of seeing that a rink was provided or equipment made available for youngsters. We do know the Lions are doing a grand job in the way of philanthropic projects and underprivileged children, but we still think an athletic program for the youngsters in canal-town is something the Lions might well sponsor. We

MEAT RATIONING AS IT AFFECTS FARMERS

Farmers may slaughter their livestock for their own consumption—but must turn in to the Local Ration Board at the end of each month, 1 coupon for each two pounds of their own slaughtered meat consumed on their own premises. Farmers need in no case surrender more than half the number of each month's valid coupons for such home slaughtered meat.

The remaining half of farmers' meat coupons may be used for ordinary retail purchases of meat, on the basis of coupon values as shown on the chart above.

Farmers may supply meat from their own slaughterings to other farmers for consumption on their own farm premises. Local farmer "Beef Rings" are also permitted. Farmers providing meat to other farmers, or "Beef Rings", must collect meat coupons on the basis of 1 coupon for each two pounds of meat, gross weight. Self-addressed and stamped envelopes for mailing in coupons can be secured at your Local Ration Board

CONSUMER MEAT IN LOCKERS

Before June 30th all consumers (including farmers) who store meat in lockers must declare in writing to the nearest Branch of the Ration Administration, the quantity of rationed meat they have in storage over and above eight pounds per person in the household. Declarations must be accompanied by sufficient coupons from the ration books of the locker holder and his household, to cover the quantity of declared stored meat at the rate of 1 coupon for each two pounds of any meat in the above groups.

The number of coupons to be detached by the locker user need not exceed more than 50% of the total meat coupons in the possession of himself and his household. Locker users may retain for retail purchasing one of each similarly numbered pair of coupons.

NOTICE TO THE MEAT TRADE

Retailers of meat must collect coupons for any rationed meats sold on or after May 27th. They need not turn in coupons to their suppliers for meat purchased up until June 10th. This arrangement is made to enable them to build up stocks. A Special Food Bulletin giving complete details of meat rationing is being mailed to all food stores.

Ladies are asked not to forget that Red Cross sewing and knitting may be carried on in their own homes. The need is urgent. Contact the vice-president in your unit, and supplies will be forthcoming immediately. Sewing is done each Wednesday in Keswick at the work room next to the bank. Mrs. P. F. re averse to anything which would detract from the war effort, but boys in the teen age who will be forced to bear a heavy load in the days to come should be given every opportunity for good clean sport. We wish all the sportsmen we have named an acclamation.

"Joint" McComb has returned to Aurora but in a new role. It used to be as a hockey player and softballer. Now it is as Pte. Eugene McComb of the Ordnance corps, and McComb is now stationed at the local Ordnance depot. He was of course a member of the Aurora Ordnance team which won intermediate O.H.A. honors, altho' a civilian at the time, but like one or two other civilians on the team the boys and the officials of the club knew the boys would soon be in khaki and wearing the navy and red of the Ordnance.

We are proud of that Aurora junior B team of 1939-40 which was robbed of the title. With the R.C.A.F. are Joe Tunney, Joe Closs, Frank Michaniuk, Jimmy Lowe and George Scott. The navy has Pete. Donkin and "Popper" Martin, while in the army are McComb, Harry Pearce, Grant Cook, Gordy Fanning, Dave Murray, the latter quartet overseas. Jimmy Cummings, "Moose" Brennan and Bill Hood have all been rejected for service because of physical defects.

Sixty-eight former Aurora junior players, only one of whom goes beyond the 30's, are on active service now or have been in the present war. Roy Collings, "Whitey" Bone and Wilkie Fleury have all been honorably discharged. We counted, including ourselves, seven members of the executive and one coach, Charlie Sweeney, who are on service. We venture to say we have missed a few here and there too. Sport fans throughout North York have every reason to feel proud of the fighting record of Aurora junior hockeyists. A few of the fellows the crowd once thought had no intestinal fortitude have already come through with flying colors.

Howard Morton, former president of the Aurora hockey club, now a staff sergeant at Halifax, has listed a new player for delivery to the Aurora junior club in 1959. Baby Morton is a husky youngster and arrived last week. Would have liked to see the Morton chest puffed with pride as he treated the boys in the sergeants' mess to celebrate the event.

POLICE COURT

Court Promises Severe Fines For Bad Brakes

"I don't care whether they are in the army or not, I treat them the same as I treat a civilian unless what they are doing is vital to the war effort." Magistrate W. N. Robinson commented in York county police court on Tuesday, when fining Staff Sgt. W. G. McKersie, Camp Borden, $25 and costs or 15 days for travelling at 60 miles an hour on Yonge St., on May 5.

"In this case I don't think it was necessary to the war effort to catch up with the convoy," said Magistrate Robinson. "I ought to make the fine $50 instead of $25. The speed was 60 miles an hour."

Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson, who laid the charge, testified that on May 5 he observed the defendant driving a jeep at an excessive rate of speed through a red light at the corner of Eagle and Yonge Sts. near Newmarket.

"I followed him and in order to escape he went down a winding back road," stated the officer. "This road comes back on the highway further along the road. I waited for him at this point and stopped him. I asked him at the time why he was in such a hurry and he said that he was in a hurry to overtake the convoy."

"And had a convoy passed there?" asked his worship.

"No, no convoy had passed for some time previous," replied the officer.

In his defence Sgt. McKersie explained that he had been on an all-day convoy and that they had stopped at Aurora for lunch. As he had been detained in performing some duty, he was late in getting his lunch and the convoy had gone on without him. He was trying to catch up with it when the police officer stopped him.

"I can't see that it was vital to the war effort that you go at that speed to catch up with the convoy. If it was necessary you could have eaten your lunch along the road. I am not going to let soldiers violate the act any more than anyone else."

Pleading guilty to siphoning five gallons of gasoline, valued at $1.25, from the car of Dvr. J. O'Donnell at the Newmarket military camp, Tprs. Walter Salewski and George Farley, Camp Borden, were both remanded in custody for one week by Magistrate Robinson. The remand, his worship stated, was to enable the police to inquire whether the two men had any previous record. Both defendants were jointly charged with the offence.

According to Chief Constable James Sloss, Newmarket, in response to a complaint in regard to a theft of gasoline at the Newmarket military camp on May 21, he went to the camp guard-house, where he found the two defendants. He said that he brought the two men to the police station, where he questioned them as to the theft.

"Where are they from?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"The two accused are from Camp Borden, but at one time they were stationed here," replied the officer. "They admitted siphoning gasoline from two different cars. They said that they needed it to get back to Camp Borden. I might say that they were quite truthful."

Constable Sloss also informed his worship that when he examined the defendants' car he found a large can, two siphons and two smaller cans with gasoline in them.

"I have come to the conclusion from the fact that you have lived here in Newmarket a great number of years and that you are continuing to live here, and the fact that you did not leave town with the money, that you had no criminal intent when taking the money," stated his worship when dismissing two charges of theft against W. F. Edgar, Newmarket.

Mr. Edgar had just pleaded not guilty to the theft of $31 from Mrs. Minnie Fairey, Newmarket, and of $54 from Mrs. Annie M. Thompson, Aurora.

According to Mrs. Fairey, on March 18 she had engaged the defendant, who is a plumber and tinsmith, to install a white china toilet set in her house. She said that the cost was to be $31 and that, as the defendant wanted the money in advance, she gave him a cheque for the amount, which he cashed. Since the contract was made he had promised on several occasions to install the set but had failed to do so or to return her money.

Chief Constable James Sloss told his worship that he had obtained a statement from the defendant in which he said that he had been unable to obtain the articles and promised to pay back Mrs. Fairey's money before his appearance in court.

"Mrs. Fairey gave me the money for the toilet and I went to Blake and Kendrick's," stated Mr. Edgar in his defence. "I was unable to get a white china toilet set. I went to another place and they didn't have any."

"Is the only reason you didn't do the work because you could not get the materials?" asked the crown.

"Yes," replied Mr. Edgar.

Recalled to the stand, Mrs. Fairey told his worship that she had since had the toilet set installed by another plumber and that she had no difficulty in getting a white china set.

Mrs. Annie Thompson testified that she had engaged Mr. Edgar some time after Christmas to put eavestroughing on her house at a cost of $54, which sum she had given to him in the form of a cheque.

"He said that he couldn't get the eavestroughing without the money to buy it," stated the complainant. "He said that he was going to the city next day. I haven't seen him since."

Asked if the defendant had refunded her money, the witness said that he had not.

"He promised to put the eavestroughing on as soon as he could," she stated.

In his defence Mr. Edgar told his worship that he had purchased some of the eavestroughing material at a cost of $18.50 but that he was unable to get the other materials to fulfill Mrs. Thompson's contract. He explained that the government had cut off some of the materials but had since promised to release about 50 percent of them. He said that he had given a traveller an order but admitted that he had failed to check up on the order.

"You have gotten into the very bad practice of getting nearly all the money for the contract beforehand," stated his worship. "It is apparent that you had received your contracts early. It is no wonder these women, who were patient for some time, became worried about their money and took some action about it.

"It is clear that you did not tackle the thing in the right manner and explain to them the difficulty you had in getting the materials. In view of the fact that you are making restitution in these two cases, I am going to dismiss the charges. I'm in doubt as to your intentions. I strongly recommend that in the future you have the materials sent to the people C.O.D. and let them pay for them."

Commenting on ten cases of bad brakes brought to court, Magistrate Robinson said: "People have to keep their cars off the road if they have bad brakes. There are enough accidents on the road as it is without persons who know that their cars have bad brakes being on the road. I think that bad brakes are a serious thing. They have cost many lives in the past and will also in the future. I am giving the minimum of $10 and costs today but if drivers are going to continue to drive knowing that they have bad brakes on their cars, as in some of the cases here today, I am going to be more severe. I can fine anyone from $10 to $50."

Eight motorists, fined $10 and costs for having inefficient brakes, were: Norman Baverstock, Waterdown, Gordon Miller, R. R. 2, Newmarket, Charles T. Hunt, R. R. 3, Newmarket, Francis Agnew, Mount Albert, Wilmot Mitchell, R. R. 1, Pefferlaw, Frank Clark, Zephyr, John Pegg, R. R. 2, Sharon, and Mulock Pegg, Holt. Similar charges against Arthur Hare, Holland Landing, and John Allison, R. R. 2, Malton, were adjourned for one week. In each case County Constable Ronald Watt tested the cars in East Gwillimbury.

In the case of Gordon Miller, who pleaded not guilty, Constable Watt testified that he tested the brakes of the defendant's car and the emergency brake was useless. He said that at 20 miles an hour the service brake stopped the car at 50 feet.

"I was fixing the car myself, putting in new parts," stated the defendant. "I was going into town to get new brakes for the car."

"And take a chance on killing someone," commented his worship. "You have no business driving when you know that your brakes were in bad condition."

According to Constable Watt, the service brake stopped Mr. Clark's car in 75 feet and the emergency in 90 feet, when the car was travelling at 20 miles an hour. Mr. Clark pleaded that he had had new brakes on his car and was waiting his turn at the garage to have them readjusted.

"You shouldn't have had the car out at all until they were adjusted," stated his worship.

Constable Watt said that when he tested the brakes on Mulock Pegg's car on the Mount Albert side road, the foot brake stopped the car in 70 feet and the emergency in 64 feet, the car travelling 20 miles an hour.

"What is the proper distance that the brakes should stop a car?" asked his worship.

"At 20 miles an hour the foot brake should stop the car at 40 feet and the emergency at 60," replied the officer.

Mario Bernes, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs for having an excessive number of perch in his possession. The charge was laid by Game Warden Ernest Prosser.

Earl H. Peters and John Douglas, both of Toronto, were each fined $15 and costs for travelling at 43 miles an hour on Yonge St. The charges were laid by Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson.

Mrs. Jean Davis, R. R. 2, Sharon, and Mrs. Gertrude Pegg, Holt, were each fined $10 and costs for failing to have 1943 operator's licenses, and Mrs. Wilhelmina Toole, R. R. 2, Mount Albert, was fined $1 and costs for entering a stop street. The last three charges were laid by Constable Watt.

MRS. TOBIAS HAYWARD DIES IN 83RD YEAR

Mrs. Tobias Hayward died at her home in Mount Albert, May 12, after a lingering illness. Born in Goodwood, Jan. 31, 1861, Ellen Lee was the daughter of Mary Lewis and John Lee. She married Tobias Hayward, who predeceased her June 10, 1941.

MOVIES ON PARADE

"Desert Victory" provides a remarkable record of how the British 8th army chased Rommel's Africa corps 1,400 miles across Africa.

"Desert Victory" provides an understanding of the battle in Africa. It opens with Prime Minister Churchill's visit there. He left certain instructions with General Montgomery and the film tells how they were carried out. Four camera-men were killed, seven were wounded and six were captured while this dramatic feature-length document was being produced. There are details of camp life in the desert, the hot days, the cold nights, the sand-storms, flies, the lonely, barren terrain, "a place fit only for war."

Marked maps trace the location of the Allied troops and the enemy. The preparations for the great drive in that hard country were laborious. A batch of captured Nazi films provide an unexpected backdrop to the Allied triumphs.

Like the Soviet film, this one takes the audience into the actual theatre of war. The men's tension as they wait for the zero hour grips the spectators. There are remarkable shots of the night battle for El Alamein. There is the inspiring episode of the lone bagpipe player who calmly plays as he marches into the jaws of death alongside the grimly determined young men. The British advance, thousands of prisoners are taken, the Germans retreat. And the next day the battle goes on and preparations are made for more to follow.

The famed 8th army could not have chased Rommel's men with courage alone. They did it with tanks, planes, bombs, shells, artillery, radio equipment, food, medical supplies, ambulances and many other items, made by the people at home. The factory is closely geared to the front. The bravery of troops can be counted on. The work of the people at home must have the same tenacious quality. It is estimated that about a third of the vehicles used by Montgomery's army came from Canada. Canadian products have big roles to play in the battles that are ahead on all fronts—Africa, Russia, Europe, China.

This outstanding picture plays two days at the Strand theatre, Monday and Tuesday, May 31 and June 1.
